Subject: Updated and improved website provides full range of information on Special-Lite commercial entrance products

Special-Lite has relaunched their updated website, www.special-lite.com, to provide the complete information needed to design, specify, order, install, and maintain the company's heavy-duty doors, framing, and panels. The revised site offers easier access to guide specifications, CAD drawings, architectural details, product literature, color charts, order forms, and installation instructions. The site features a simple-to-use door selection tool, an online literature and sample order form, a sales representative locator, and an extensive color photo gallery of the company's product lines.

The site includes in-depth information on Special-Lite's four major door product lines—Monumental, Aluminum Flush, Fiberglass Reinforced Polyester (FRP) Flush, and Acrylic-Modified Polyester (AMP) Flush, as well as the company's door hardware, vision lites, framing, and panels. Each product page provides links to the product literature, specifications, architectural details, CAD drawings, color charts, and other related items specific to that product. Most materials are provided as Acrobat® pdf files. Guide Specifications are provided as Microsoft® Word® documents, and CAD documents are provided in AutoCAD® R12 DWG format.
